

6° DO YOUR MOB 2017

VERONA

30 NOVEMBRE - 1 DECEMBER

2017

MOB@JOB

In the context of the 30th anniversary of Erasmus Scuola Centrale Formazione promotes the 6th edition of the event Do Your MOB. Do Your MOB 2017 is going to analyse the connection between Mobility and work based learning. The analysis of this relationship takes place because of the following needs:

- adopting an accreditation system for the enterprises which realize excellent and recognizable measures to promote work based learning;
- adopting a method for treatment of soft skills in mobility according with the New Skills Agenda of the European Commission (2016) and the research about international hidden competences of CIMO (2014);
- introduce the transnational mobility within the Italian dual system for VET through the encouragement of the regional politics;
- promoting an informal network of regional authorities for the recognition of the transnational work experience within the formal VET pathways;
- promoting the transnational mobility of youths with special needs in order to increase social inclusion and autonomy of disabled people.

The event will take place in the 2017 JOB&Orienta fair at Verona Fiera.

WHORKSHOPS

Practical workshops in parallel.

Each workshop will be made in 2 editions:

30 NOVEMBER from 3:30 pm to 6:00 p.m.;

1 DECEMBER from 9.30 to 12.00 a.m.

at CFP Piccole Figlie San Giuseppe - Via Bolzano, 1 - Verona

Workshop N° 1 - Transnational mobility and soft skills

The workshop will be realized from Mrs Maria Concetta Bottazzi, expert of learning process in transnational mobility and scientific counsellor of GORES, model of ECVET application to the transnational mobility of young people, promoted by Scuola Centrale Formazione since 2013. The workshop wants to promote a think tank about:

- soft skills which are mostly connected with the experience of learning mobility, in particular with those mobilities which foresee work based learning;
- activities which should be mostly promoted by companies mentors in order to let VET learners develop soft skills;

- tools to be used in order to assess soft skills;
- activities to promote in order to let learners develop awareness of own soft skills (protagonism of learners and tools of collection of evidences);

The workshop will see the participation of ReyEurope whose director Marcus Miller will introduce a studycase about valorization of soft skills and transnational mobility. The case will show off the connection between soft skills and preparation before mobility of learners.

Workshop N° 2 - Mentoring e work based learning

The workshop will be realized by Mr Miika Kekki, expert of learning processes and international competences.

This workshop will focus on the need to promote rielaboration and awareness of work based learning in VET learners through specific tools and methodologies. The workshop will offer to participants a definition of the key role of the mentor in transnational mobilities, addressed in particular to accompanying tutors of mobility flows, host tutors working at intermediation of work placements, and to mentors who work in companies to promote human resources.

The aims of the workshop are:

- sharing the meaning of "mentor" and the pedagogic meaning of this role;
- defining 10 rules to be a good mentor (vademecum of the mentor figure);
- methodologies to apply in the phase of awareness building of the learner;
- choosing the best proof and evaluation.
